Municipal Outreach Session

An Opportunity to learn more about PennDOT Connects

What is PennDOT Connects?

A program that improves communities and transportation systems by ensuring that communication and collaboration with local officials happens early in PennDOT's transportation project development process.

What is this session?

The session is for municipal elected officials, managers, secretaries, public works staff, roadmasters, road crew, etc., and will explain how Connects is implemented, and how communities can benefit from the Connects process. The interactive session will also provide information about community planning and transportation funding resources. The session will be led by PennDOT, in cooperation with the North Central Rural Planning Organization (RPO), the SEDA-COG Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), and the Centre County MPO.

These sessions can help you identify...

- ◆ Ways to ensure community issues are considered in transportation projects
- ◆ Potential funding sources for state and local transportation projects
- ◆ Tools and resources available for community and transportation planning

Participants may attend in person or remotely via a virtual connection.
